25X1

1. In November 1954, Erich Selbmann, younger brother of the East German Minister for Heavy Industry, Fritz Selbmann, allegedly left for North Korea. He is reported to be an engineer who, until the date of his departure, was head of the Construction Union (Bau-Union) Stalinstadt.
2. Selbmann was allegedly accompanied to Korea by eight other technically trained persons and the "expedition" outfitted with tents, food and various necessities before its departure.
3. The purpose of the trip is unknown but is assumed to be in connection with North Korean reconstruction efforts.
